

April/May 2011

Wright Care CDC Newsletter

April Month of the Military Child

Special points of interest:

- * Join the PAB in supporting the children, families, and staff of Wright Care
- * Look for more upcoming details about the exciting events we have at Wright Care for the Month of the Military Child

Celebrate the Month of the Military Child with us!

April is Month of the Military Child. We'd like to take time to celebrate the wonderful culture which we are all a part of! Every child and family is special and unique to our center and program. If you have a special talent or interest that you would like to share with your child's classroom please feel free to talk with the classroom teacher and set up a time to share that with the children here at Wright Care! We are always excited to see parents in the rooms. If sharing a talent or skill is not something you are interested in please feel free to stop in and read a story or share a meal with your child anytime. Parents and families are always more than welcome in the classroom!

Please see the attached calendar for upcoming events. We would like to invite parents to stop in on 22 April (Earth Day) any time during the day to take your child outside to our outdoor gardening boxes and help in preparing the boxes for planting this spring!

PAB Family Child's Art Auction and Dinner

Please join the PAB on 28 April from 5:00 PM-7:00 PM for a child's art auction night and dinner. The classrooms have been collecting children's art work and will have the art work on display and available to "bid" on. This is a great opportunity to visit with other families of Wright Care and see some of your child's art work displayed. Enjoy dinner with your family after visiting the auction.

Please be looking for more information closer to the event. Volunteers are needed as well!!!

Preschool Happenings

With spring upon us preschool is focusing their attention to studies about the outdoors! Upcoming studies include weather, planting and gardening, living and non living, insect and plant life cycles. Please check the room and lesson plan regularly for information on upcoming field trips. Spring is the best opportunity to get the children out into the community learning about the area they live in, and experience hands on learning.

ADDITIONAL NOTES FROM THE TEACHERS:

- Check out your child's writing composition book!
- Parent teacher conferences coming April/May

"Children learn more by the example you set than what you teach"- Author unknown

Toddler Tidbits

Our toddlers will be exploring the outdoors and learning more about plant cycles and life cycles of plants and animals. They will continue with self help skills . Our toddlers will continue with letter recognition games as well as beginning writing skills.

Check out Pretoddlers

Our busy group of pretoddlers will be exploring different shapes, sizes, colors, and patterns. The activities planned will be focused on early learning in math and science.

- Please feel free to visit the room anytime!
- Please watch for more information on an upcoming tea party!!!

ADDITIONAL NOTES FROM THE TEACHERS:

Infant activities

Our infants are growing and changing everyday! There are a lot of new children in these rooms and we would like to welcome your families into our Wright Care family. Our infant teachers are hoping the weather will warm up so that we can get the infants outdoors for some fresh air and a change in their sensory environment. Both infant rooms will continue working with children on their gross and fine motor skills through play. They will also continue developing their language skills through regular activities such as individual reading times, group read times, puppet plays and singing. Please feel free to come in and play anytime! We love having you!!!

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

Caption describing picture or graphic.

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Organization

U.S. Air Force

Primary Business Address
Your Address Line 2
Your Address Line 3
Your Address Line 4
Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555
E-mail: someone@example.com

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Your business tag line here.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

Caption describing picture or graphic.